

New Attack By Vishinsky Is Launched In UN Today

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Russia launched a new broadside against the United States today after Secretary-general Trygve Lie in an extraordinary appeal called on the bitterly quarreling big powers to bury their differences in the interest of peace among the United Nations.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, opened his new offensive by charging Secretary of State Marshall gave an "incorrect" explanation of the big power deadlock on Korean independence. He then assailed Marshall—who was sitting before him—for supporting U.N. consideration of recommendations for revision of the Italian peace treaty. Vishinsky charged that any action on this question was a violation of the U.N. charter.

Lie Pleads for Compromise
Vishinsky spoke as the 55-nation General Assembly began debate on its formidable agenda, which already had been approved by the Assembly's 14-nation steering committee over Soviet opposition on some sections. He demanded exclusion of the items on Korea and Italy.

Lie closed the Assembly's week-long general debate with a plea to the big powers to compromise their differences which he said were spreading fear and hate throughout the world and crippling the U.N. Meanwhile, the Arab countries lost the first round of the Palestine battle when the Assembly overrode their objections to creation of a special 55-nation committee to consider the Palestine question.

On the Korean question, Vishinsky said Russia twice had submitted constructive proposals but these had not been accepted by the United States. Therefore, he said, "the American delegate must bear the responsibility" for the deadlock.

Vishinsky Overruled
He said the Korean issue could not legally be considered by the General Assembly.

Turning to Italy, he declared that the United States several times "has shown lack of a precise attitude on such questions." This case, Vishinsky went on, is "another example of the lack of ability of the United States to respect international agreements which have been freely entered into."

Vishinsky said those who support the proposal to consider changes in the Italian treaty have a "rather strange conception of justice."

Vishinsky asked permission to make a new statement of general Soviet policy, but Dr. Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, Assembly president, ruled that he must confine his remarks now to debate on items on the provisional agenda.

CANDIDATES TO DRAW IN TIES

Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock is the time set for the drawing of lots to break ties in the voting at the primary election, Clarence C. Smith, clerk for the county election board, announced today.

Despite the fact that ties exist for 120 district offices throughout the county, officials expect only a few of the candidates to be present at the commissioners' office in the court house Friday afternoon when the drawing takes place. Candidates have a right to draw personally. If they are not present, clerks make the drawings.

Many Withdrawals

While preparing the 42 ballots that must be made up for the election, officials are expecting a number of persons named as candidates to withdraw their names. So far five persons selected at the primaries have withdrawn and others have until October 10 to withdraw as candidates if they desire.

Those who have notified the county election board of their withdrawal as candidates are: Harry L. Cratin, for auditor on the Democratic ticket in Littlestown; Glenn C. Cashman, for school director for two years on the Democratic ticket in East Berlin; David P. Hykes, for school director on the Republican ticket in Reading township; Claude Nace, for auditor on the Democratic ticket in Berwick township; Sterling Berkheimer, for councilman on the Democratic ticket in Abbottstown.

Expense accounts of the various candidates for office were being received by the county commissioners' office with Joan S. Wolfe, candidate for county auditor on the Republican ticket, and David J. Brown, Franklin township, candidate for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket, both reporting they had not spent more than $100 on their campaigns.

WILL RETURN LOOT

Larceny charges filed against Fred W. Hardin, 65 West High street, and Steven Schachle, 39 North Franklin street, for the theft of two planks valued at $10 from the farm of Charles Harner, Gettysburg R. 1, last Saturday, were dropped this morning when Hardin and Schachle agreed to return the planks and pay the costs of prosecution. The charges were filed with Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. The men were arrested by state police of the Gettysburg sub-station.

COUNTY BOARD ASKS DISTRICTS TO GIVE REPORTS

The Adams County Board of School Directors, at its regular September meeting Monday night in the office of J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools, in the court house adopted a resolution requesting all delinquent school districts in the county which have not filed their overdue reports with the county office to do so "as soon as possible" so that they may not face the withholding of their state appropriation funds.

"The failure of some school boards to send in their reports to us promptly not only threatens the holding up of their state appropriation, but holds up the work here in the county office," Mr. Slaybaugh declared. The following districts have not sent in their reports, he said:

List Tardy Districts
Annual financial: Arendtsville, Berwick, Butler, Franklin, Liberty Menallen, Oxford and York Springs. Auditors' reports: Arendtsville, Berwick, Butler, Menallen, Oxford and York Springs.

Budget reports: Butler, Menallen and Tyrone.

Transportation: Bendersville, Butler, Franklin, Freedom, Huntington and Liberty.

Approve Appointment
The following reports submitted to the county office were approved:

Financial: Bendersville, Biglerville, Freedom and Littlestown; Auditors: Conewago Independent; Budgets: Arendtsville, Bendersville, Upper Adams Jointure, Cumberland, Franklin, Straban and York Springs; and Transportation: Abbottstown and Conewago.

The board gave its approval to the appointment of Grace H. Brandon, Berwick, Pa., as supervisor of special education.

It adopted resolutions placing schools in the county back on standard time beginning Monday, September 29, and the type of its own board meeting in October at 8 p. m. standard time.

Charles I. Raffensperger, new assistant county superintendent of schools, thanked members of the county board for his appointment and declared that he would do his utmost to further the educational program in Adams county.

Raffensperger Reports
Prof. Raffensperger reported that R. Gould Smith of the State Department of Education visited the county last week and inspected Littlestown and East Berlin high schools. He said Mr. Smith recommended an enlarged shower room at the Littlestown school, additional shop machinery and the setting up of an agricultural course. The visit to Littlestown, Raffensperger said, was with the idea of approving a junior-senior high school plan there.

Prof. Raffensperger said the problem at East Berlin was overcrowding, with as many as 60 pupils in some rooms, but added that this problem was in process of solution with the erection of a temporary building containing three additional rooms.

Problems in transportation have arisen since the start of the school year, due to the closing of some schools and the re-routing of buses because of road detours. Raffensperger said, but these problems, he reported, are being ironed out.

Donate Life Buoys For Use At Dicks Dam

Ten life buoys will be available along Dicks Dam next summer, it was learned today.

Nine members of the Dicks Dam association have donated funds for purchase of that many life buoys, following donation by the Red Cross of one life buoy as a demonstration during the summer. The purchases, made through the Red Cross, have been completed and the buoys turned over to the association.

Originally the association planned to buy a number of the buoys but decided later to retain the money held by the association for repairs to the dam after members came forth volunteering to donate the funds for the buoys. Plans have also been made by the association and Red Cross to sponsor another water safety class at Dicks Dam next summer.

DRIVERS PAY FINES

Robert A. Straley, Littlestown R. 2, and Paul Grove, Littlestown R. 2, have paid fines of $10 and costs each before Justice Howard G. Blocher, Littlestown, on charges laid by state police following an accident earlier this month. Straley was charged with failing to yield the right of way and Grove was charged with failing to keep to the right of the highway.

TO DRAW JURIES

The precept for jurors for the November term of court scheduled to begin November 17 has been given by the prothonotary's office to the sheriff at the direction of the court. The grand jury will meet November 13, with the petit jury to begin its work four days later.

Summer Has Final Fling; Fall Makes Debut; Mercury Hits 33

Summer, after cutting a variety of climatic capers for three months, went on its final fling today, sending Adams countians into their topcoats and sweaters as the mercury dropped to 36 degrees during the night and early morning here and 33 at the Arendtsville fruit laboratory. At 1 o'clock today it was 58 here and 56 at Arendtsville.

The first frost came earlier than last year, but cool weather arrived early in September in 1946. There was no frost last year until October. Furnace fires were started in Gettysburg Saturday. The first fire was started in the furnace at the court house today. Last year it was heated for the first time on September 12.

DR. A. BACHMAN TELLS ROTARY CLUB OF TRIP
The inflation of European money makes travel there relatively inexpensive for American tourists, Dr. Albert Bachman indicated Monday evening at Rotary in a talk on his recent trip to Europe.

For a huge meal in France he paid $3 on his trip through France to Switzerland. Coming through France on his way home from Switzerland he paid the same amount in francs, but this time it cost him only $2 in American money.

France "looked like a garden" when he visited there late in May, the college professor told the Rotarians before describing his experiences in transferring dollars into francs, lira and pounds during his trip. In every case private money marts were offering much more native money in exchange for dollars than the official rate.

Lost Weight on Ration
Switzerland and England seem to be the only countries where "I felt that the people work as a group and recognize the state," Doctor Bachman added.

In Switzerland he decided to "live as the average Swiss does, I lost ten pounds on the ration," he said, pointing out that on Swiss rations he received, as do the Swiss, only two pounds of meat per month. During his trip, Doctor Bachman said, he talked to hundreds of Europeans. Their first question was "What about America and Russia."

Frank Dougherty, of the magazine committee, reviewed an article on the United Nations and World Peace by Trygve Lie appearing in the current issue of the Rotarian, club magazine.

Doctor Bachman was introduced by Vice President Mares Sherman. The club president, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, presided at the meeting held in the YWCA at which 55 members and guests were present.

Financial Changes

Mr. Thomas discussed "A Panorama of the Banking and Financial Situation." He divided banking and financial conditions into three separate periods of time. The conditions prevailing after World War I, the depression period from 1930 up to the beginning of World War II and during and after World War II. He reviewed during all three periods, the Government debt, interest rates, commodity prices, real estate prices and security prices, as well as loan and investment conditions, deflation.

DISTRICT HAS HALF OF QUOTA OF NEW SCOUTS

The Black Walnut Boy Scout district has already secured 34 of the 68 new scouts sought as the quota in the current drive ending October 15, according to reports presented Monday evening at a meeting of the district committee in the Hotel Gettysburg.

Snead Cliff, scout field executive, reported to the group on the organization of the district and the various duties of the troop committees, institutional representatives, district committeemen, scoutmasters and other leaders. He also outlined the entire program of scouting and the training that is given to leaders and scouts in their work.

Plans for a "University of Scouting," a six-week course to be held in October and November, were outlined with the committee seeking to secure 100 per cent attendance by all scouters—scoutmasters, assistants, committeemen and the like—at the school which will be specially designed to train new men in scouting.

To Meet At Camp

Reports were presented by Samuel Ehlman for Troop 71, Biglerville; the Rev. Floyd A. Carroll for Troop 76, sponsored by the Christ Lutheran and the Methodist churches; Dr. Joseph H. Riley for Troop 78, sponsored by St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, and William Dentler for Troop 88, Orrtanna Methodist and Fairfield Mennonite sponsored troop.

Cliff reported that the swimming pool at the new scout memorial camp has been completed as has the road leading to the camp, and the foundation for the central lodge.

The next meeting of the district committee will be held October 19 at the memorial camp with Dean W. E. Tilberg, chairman of the district, who presided at Monday's session, chairman of a committee to make arrangements for a program at the next meeting.

Vagrant Is Given Ten Days In Jail

Caught stealing a can of salmon and a tin of shoe polish in the Acme market on Center Square Monday afternoon, an Irishman from the "Old Sod" who said he had been in jail so many times he couldn't remember the number, drew ten days more Monday night, in default of a $5 fine and costs.

Arrested by borough police the man gave his name as Torenco Joseph Lynch, 57. He was jailed here and arraigned later before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, and taken to the Dauphin county jail at Harrisburg.

Lions Consider Campaign For Community Chest Here

The Gettysburg Lions club initiated a move Monday evening to organize a Community Chest fund for Gettysburg.

President M. P. Hartzell appointed Dean W. E. Tilberg, who had brought the matter before the club, as chairman of a committee to go into a study of the problems involved and make a report back to the Lions club within a week or two. The personnel of the committee has not yet been announced.

Suggesting that the Lions sponsor a move in Gettysburg to set up a community chest, Dean Tilberg said: "From November until late

CLUBMEN HEAR 'FISHING' TALK BY TOM NORRIS

"A lot of patience" was listed as the chief requirement of a successful fisherman by Thomas Norris, Michaux district forester from Caledonia, in a "fishing" talk before members of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening at the Shetter House.

"If you have a good reel, a good line, a little skill and a lot of patience, you'll catch some fish," Norris concluded after showing the Lions much of his stock of fishing gear and part of his collection of more than 600 artificial flies used in fishing in many parts of the world.

Introduced by Richard S. Codori, the club's program chairman, Mr. Norris, who was one of the organizers of the Caledonia Lions club, told the local clubmen that fishing is a hobby that calls for "brains, patience and practice" but pays off in pleasure and in "fellowship with men."

Doesn't Pay Financially

Mr. Norris said he could not recommend fishing as a financially profitable venture. "You can go to the fish market and buy fish cheaper than you can accumulate the equipment and go out and catch some fish in our streams," he warned.

He showed the clubmen his book of about 100 flies he carries when fishing for bass and pointed out his favorites for clear, milky and muddy water. He named the Royal Coachman as the best fly for trout fishing in this section and demonstrated the tying of a water or blood knot that will not slip and should be used for fastening leaders, he said.

Mr. Norris described to the clubmen types of lines and leaders he has found most successful in fishing in this area.

President M. P. Hartzell, Sr., presided at the meeting with about 65 Lions present. Harry D. Ridinger, Ernest Kranias, Charles I. Raffensperger and Paul Whitmoyer were guests.

SMALL INCREASE IN RELIEF ROLLS

An increase of six in the case load of the Adams County Public Assistance office from August 1 to September 1 was noted by the county assistance board Monday at its regular meeting in the assistance office on North Washington street.

A total of 704 cases was reported as of August 1, and 710 as of September 1. The case load for September 1 a year ago was 693.

The board offered to cooperate with school authorities under a new law which provides for medical assistance from the state for youngsters in school whose parents or guardians are financially unable to give them medical or dental care they may need. Such cases must be certified by the school authorities before the aid can be given.

A great need for some organization such as the Adams County Welfare Council, acting as a coordinating body for various social, service and health organizations in the county was outlined by members of the board with the board's ideas to be presented to the welfare council at its meeting Monday evening.

Five staff members, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, John Kendeheart, Grace Waltmeyer, Mrs. Stanley Whitson and Virginia Wright will attend the Region Eight conference of the Pennsylvania Welfare conference to be held at Lancaster in the First Presbyterian church October 2, the board learned. Several members of the board also revealed plans to attend the session.

The next meeting of the board will be held October 27.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Clyde Deatrick, Harrisburg road, was stricken ill suddenly Monday while at work at the Sinclair Refining company plant and was rushed to the Hanover hospital where an emergency operation was performed for a ruptured appendix.

'AG' INSTRUCTOR FOR VETS HANDS IN RESIGNATION

The resignation of Stanley Musselman, Adams county veterans' agricultural teacher, submitted Monday to Vocational Education Advisor Richard C. Lighter and read at Monday night's meeting of the county school board, was accepted with regret and Mr. Musselman's efforts during his past year of service in the county were highly praised.

In his resignation, Mr. Musselman said he had accepted a position as veterans' agriculture teacher in the Southern Lancaster County Joint Consolidated high school at Quarryville, Pa. The resignation is effective November 1. No successor has been chosen.

"Mr. Musselman has done an exceptionally fine job in the county," Mr. Lighter said, in reporting the resignation. The success of the veteran program in agriculture in Adams county has been due largely to the good work of Mr. Musselman and the other teachers."

Salaries Increased

Mr. Musselman's contract expires October 1, but Mr. Lighter said he had agreed to remain an additional month.

The county board voted to pay $25 per month to Miss Justine Charles, secretary in the office of the county superintendent of schools, out of Veterans Administration funds, and to increase the salary of Mrs. Janie Lighter from $75 to $100 a month. Miss Charles, according to Superintendent J. Floyd Slaybaugh, helps with the office work of the "ag" classes, of which there are four in the county, and Mrs. Lighter does "ag" class secretarial work and typing at her home, he said. Her original salary was fixed when there was only one class in the county, it was pointed out.

The payment of Miss Charles brings her total salary to $1,780, Mr. Slaybaugh said. She receives $1,200 a year from the county, and to date $280 has been contributed by district school boards toward her salary. In recommending the increases, Mr. Slaybaugh said: "This is not the price of a beginning teacher in Adams county, and Miss Charles is a college graduate and an efficient secretary." The increases are effective October 1.

Cited By State

In giving a financial report of the activities of the "ag" classes in the county from June 15, 1946, to July 1, 1947, Mr. Lighter praised the cooperation of the school board for making the veteran program possible.

He reported that $13,762.24 was received from the Veterans Administration, and that expenses totaled $11,922.83, leaving a balance on July 1, 1947 of $1,839.41. Salaries were $5,582.50, travel allowances $2,106.68 and building and equipment rental $1,145.

"The program in Adams county was recommended by the state to

THOMAS POINTS BRIGHT FUTURE FOR BANKERS

"Banking is an outpost of free enterprise and will occupy a front line position in any advance civilization makes," Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National bank here and member of the executive council of the American Bankers' association, told the Harrisburg chapter of the American Institute of Banking Saturday evening at the annual fall meeting of the chapter at the Allenberry inn, Boiling Springs.

Speaking principally to the younger bankers present, Thomas told them "The future of banking is yours, and there are opportunities now, as never before, for each of us to render indispensable service to our communities."

New "Tools" Today

"There is a spiritual satisfaction in banking that money cannot buy. There is the satisfaction of service, and the return of so many veterans of armed force duty to banking duty, proves that they are not guided by dollar signs but by their desire to serve. Yet while bankers join school teachers, college professors and ministers in devotion to duty, there are still no limitations on the goals that bankers can reach, there are numerous men who have made the leap from bank clerk to corporation president."

Thomas pointed out the bankers today have many new tools with which to work which were not available to the banker of a previous day. He cited chattel mortgages, FHA loans, accounts receivable loans, consumer credit and other personal loans, field warehouse loans, term loans and GI loans as among the "new tools" which permit bankers to make additional sound loans and better serve their communities.

He advised the young bankers "to make the most of the opportunities for study that are open to you. Take advantage of the AIB studies, send your mind on ahead acquiring familiarity with banking fundamentals and mastering new techniques of service." Integrity, loyalty, courtesy, efficiency, enthusiasm and adaptability should be the marks of the rising banker, Thomas added.

News Briefs

Chapin Falls, O., Sept. 23 (AP)—Four persons, including two Pennsylvanians, were injured here as a tree toppled over onto their automobile during a storm.

Those injured Sunday night were Betty Allen, of New Castle, Pa.; James Ramsey, of the same address, and Aurel Paris and Edward Pekarek, both of Cleveland.

West Grove, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—A newly developed red rose has been named for the late singer Grace Moore who "loved red roses."

A half dozen of the flowers were christened yesterday at the Conard-Pyle rose gardens by Miss Moore's sister, Mrs. Richard L. Mahan. "She loved red roses."

Miss Moore died in an airplane crash while on a concert tour of Europe this year.

Harrisburg, Sept. 23 (AP)—Revenue from the state's new soft drink tax is running only slightly behind Governor James H. Duff's estimate in the first three months of its existence.

When the tax was signed into law Duff said the levy was designed to bring in $35,000,000 during the biennium, or an average revenue of $1,750,000 a month.

For the three month period from June to August inclusive the tax yielded $3,858,667 as compared with Duff's advance estimate of $4,125,000 for the same period.

The Revenue department also said that the state's tax on cigarettes, now four cents instead of two, brought in $3,166,494 as compared to $1,890,698.

Jerusalem, Sept. 23 (AP)—British troops and police searched through the Yemite Jewish quarters of Jerusalem early today, interrupting pre-Yom Kippur (Day of Atonement) services in at least two synagogues. Military authorities said the congregations were given an hour to complete their services, and when they were not finished in that time those present were asked to leave and the soldiers then combed the premises. Witnesses said the troops unrolled holy scrolls and took holy books from lockers.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 23 (AP)—The central section of Buenos Aires was shaken early today by the explosion of a powerful bomb which wrecked a parked automobile belonging to Juan Carlos Charone, an official of the construction workers' union. The blast shattered windows in the neighborhood and caused momentary panic, but there were no casualties.

Surviving are a brother, Martin, Frederick, and three sisters, Mrs. Annie Lescalet, Hanover; Mrs. Charles Angell, Union Bridge; and Mrs. Elmer Krise, Littlestown.

Services were held today at 1 p. m. at the C. O. Puss and Son funeral home in Taneytown. The Rev. Ernest Colwell officiated. Burial took place in the Methodist cemetery at Middleburg.

A son was still-born to Mr. and Mrs. R. Delroy Keller, Arendtsville, at the Warner hospital Monday evening at 9:42 o'clock.

Mrs. Keller is the former Miss Joyce Deardorff. In addition to the parents the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Keller, Orrtanna, survive.

Interment in Fairview cemetery, Arendtsville, Wednesday morning.

Bury George M. Beamer

Funeral services for George M. Beamer, 62, who died at his home, 114 Buford avenue, last Wednesday afternoon from a cerebral hemorrhage, were held Saturday afternoon from the Bender funeral home conducted by the Rev. Harold V. March. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

The pallbearers were Walter Lott, Harry Geiselman, Fremont Kuntz, George Inskip, Fred Sanders and Irvin Strook.

posit levels, etc., in banks throughout the country during those three periods.

Mr. Thomas said "Loan and investment conditions generally in banks after World War I were very different than they are at this time, following World War II. After World War I banks held much less in Government Bonds and other good sound, liquid assets than they do today. Loans at that time were not required to have an amortization schedule to the extent that they are today. During World War I, the banks of this country went to war with their facilities. They bought Government Bonds liberally with increased deposits and with money realized from loans that were paid off during the war. The yield on these bonds was low and a corresponding interest pattern was established throughout the United States as a matter of sound banking and in keeping with low income yields.

"Banks today are more liquid and in a stronger position than they have been in any of the other two periods mentioned in this comparison. Lending practices are better today. Real estate and chattel mortgages are generally required to have a definite amortization schedule. The same is true of term and many other forms of loans, all of which make for sounder banking and better business conditions."

'Glamor' Alone Not Enough On Campus

State College, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—Popularity on the college campus demands more than "glamor" alone, says the psychology clinic at the Pennsylvania State college.

The conscientious, industrious student—providing he is also friendly and pleasant—is far more popular than the glamor boys and girls, a study conducted by the clinic showed.

Undesirable personality traits which help lose friends include being lazy, superstitious, gossipy and hypocritical, the clinic added.

Property Transfers

Kathryn E. and Leroy E. Eisenhart, East Berlin, have sold to Russell E. and Ruth E. Tanner, same place, a lot in East Berlin.

Jessie R. Geiser, Wilkensburg, has sold to R. M. Starr, York Springs, a 13-acre farm in Huntingdon township.

Bernard R. and Genevieve M. Riley, Gettysburg, have sold to Leo Donald Redding, York, a property on the north side of Hanover street.

Griest Brothers, Incorporated, Butler township, have sold to William Wright, Menallen township, a nine-acre property in Menallen township.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING

Wilkens-Barre, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—Sylvester Klutcho, 14, of Wilkens-Barre, was shot accidentally in the right leg while he and several other youths were hunting crows, police reported. Police said the Klutcho boy was hurt when a shotgun was discharged in the hands of Joseph Hupcey, 30, who had taken the youths out in his car to hunt crows. Hupcey was released by Justice of the Peace Joseph S. Matiskiel in $500 bail to await outcome of the Klutcho boy's injuries.

'PUSH-BUTTON' FLIGHT ACROSS OCEAN HAILED

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—The push-button flight of an Air Force C-54 across the North Atlantic may point the way to railroad regularly for airlines and the elimination of human error in the cockpit.

The four-engine Skymaster, known as "The Big Push," flew 2,400 miles from Stephenville, N. F., to Brize Norton airport in England yesterday without a hand on the controls after the starting button was touched.

A crew of nine rode along "just in case" and there were five passengers, including some British observers.

Cuts Human Element

While the venture brought immediate speculation of push-button atomic warfare, the Air Force regards it only as part of an extensive study into the problem of all-weather flying, centered at Clinton County airport, Wilmington, Ohio.

"The Big Push" has made a number of shorter flights under circumstances similar to the Atlantic crossing. These included "hands off" trips to Wilmington from Mitchell Field, L. I.; Washington (D. C.) National airport; Andrews Field, Md., and Long Beach, Calif.

The Air Force hopes to develop a method which will permit the pilot to serve only as a monitor in bad weather, reducing if not actually eliminating the human element so often blamed for crashes.

CHURCH HOLDS HOMECOMING

The Ladies' Bible class of Holtschwann Union church, near East Berlin, with Mrs. George M. Wehler as teacher, sponsored the 98th annual Homecoming for Lutheran and Reformed congregations of the church Sunday afternoon and evening.

The service was divided into an afternoon session at 2:30 in charge of the Lutheran pastor, the Rev. Elwood G. Johnson, and an evening session at 7:30 in charge of the Reformed pastor, the Rev. John S. Royer.

Miss Marianna Miller was organist at both sessions and presented organ preludes and offertory selections for these.

Each session was opened by call to worship and invocation by the presiding pastor who read the Scriptures and led in prayer after the congregation's opening hymn. He closed each service with the doxology and benediction. Congregational closing hymns were "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" in the afternoon and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" in the evening.

The offerings received at both sessions will be put into the church's building fund.

The Rev. Carroll Bailey, York, and the Ladies' chorus of Roth's church, near Spring Grove, furnished music in the afternoon and Charles Miller, Dover, and the "Gladettes" of Spring Grove, with Faye Miller, Dover pianist, were the musicians of the evening.

A special message was brought at the evening devotion by the Rev. Archie C. Rohrbaugh, pastor of the New Oxford Reformed church.

'Friend' Slays Bride And Takes Own Life

Ridgeland, S. C., Sept. 23 (AP)—The "good luck" Mrs. John E. Curtis expected a "friend" to wish her on her second honeymoon was a blast of pistol fire. It left her dead on the Coastal highway while her army captain husband and her two-year-old son, Buddy, looked on aghast.

The "friend" was a handsome, 27-year-old police officer, Dennis J. Counihan, of the Chatham county (Georgia) homicide squad. Mrs. Curtis met him in Savannah while divorced from her husband, whom she re-married yesterday.

A coroner's jury found last night that Counihan after savagely pumping seven bullets into Mrs. Curtis, took his own life with two shots in the chest.

STRAYED, NOT STOLEN

State police rapidly solved the "theft" of one white-faced brindle steer from the fields of John Kelly, Gettysburg R. 1, Monday morning. Investigation made Monday afternoon disclosed that the steer had squeezed through a hole in a fence and was contentedly chewing away in a neighbor's pasture, police said.

PLAN FIRE DRILL

Fire Chief James A. Aumen announced today the fire company will report at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening for a drill with the new ladder truck. The new equipment will be taken to the hill on the Bonneauville road just east of town for the drill work.

CONDITION UNCHANGED

The condition of Howard L. Hutson, 37, Benderville, a patient in the Carlisle hospital as the result of injuries received in an auto accident Sunday evening at Hunters Run, was described by hospital authorities this afternoon as "about the same." Mr. Hutson has been conscious periodically.

Argon, a gas obtained from air, is used in electric light bulbs.

Upper Communities

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Carey, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday with Mr. Carey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey, of Arendtsville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crosley, of Lemoyne, visited Mrs. Crosley's sister, Mrs. Charles Miller, of Biglerville, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heckenluber, Biglerville, R. D., transacted business in York Monday.

Betty Kuykendall, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kuykendall, of Biglerville, who was taken to the Harrisburg hospital several weeks ago as a polio patient, has been transferred to the Elizabethtown hospital for treatment. She is reported to be getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Benton Fidler, Benderville, entertained over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kessler, of Hagerstown, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kuntzinger and daughter, Donna Lee, of Smithburg, Md.

Miss Barbara Kleinfelter has resumed her studies at Lebanon Valley college, Annville, after the summer vacation which she spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Kleinfelter, of Biglerville.

Mrs. Howard Guise and daughter, Ann, and sons, Howard Jr., and Dickie, Biglerville, R. D., were visitors in Harrisburg Saturday.

The Ladies' Bible class of Benderville Lutheran Sunday school, Benderville, will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ira Schlosser.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Koser, Biglerville, left today for a week's visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Cardell, Pleasantville, N. J.

Miss Martha Hollabaugh has resumed her studies at Syracuse university, Syracuse, N. Y., after spending the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hollabaugh, Biglerville. William Hollabaugh, who also was at home for the summer, returned to Penn State college Sunday to resume his studies.

Miss Marie Walker, McKnightstown, whose marriage to H. Vernon Blough, Johnstown, will take place Saturday, was tendered a miscellaneous shower by the members of the Tuesday Evening club to which she belongs, Monday evening at the home of Miss Virginia Wright, Quaker Valley.

LIBERALS AND MONARCHISTS WIN ELECTION

Rome, Sept. 23 (AP)—In the first test of public opinion since Premier Alcide de Gasperi dropped leftists from his cabinet last June, a right wing coalition called "the list of the rooster" swept a local election Sunday at Caserta, the Interior Ministry announced today.

Nearly complete returns showed that the rightist coalition—comprising Qualunquists, Monarchists and Liberals—pooled 7,493 votes to 3,187 for de Gasperi's Christian Democrat Party and a 3,650 for the People's block—Communists and minor Leftist groups.

The Rightist total was swelled even more by another group of Liberals and Monarchists which got 1,909 votes on a separate ticket.

Prepare For Vote

These election results were announced as the Communists and Socialists prepared to ask the Constituent Assembly for a vote of no confidence in the de Gasperi cabinet. Debate originally had been scheduled to start on the motion today, but was postponed until Friday at the request of the Qualunquists, who are holding a national convention.

There was no visible break in the ranks of the center and right by which de Gasperi maintains his grip on the government, but responsible political quarters expressed belief the debate would last perhaps a month, during which the extreme and moderate left would explore every phase of the government's domestic and foreign policies while maintaining heavy pressure outside the Assembly.

Most of these observers predicted a government victory, since de Gasperi still can count on the support of the right and center deputies who backed him when he dropped the Communists and Socialists from his government last June.

New Farm Strike

But the powerful, Communist-controlled General Labor Confederation brought its strike technique right into the government's backyard yesterday with a farm strike in the province of Rome. Giuseppe di Vittorio, the Communist general secretary of the confederation, said 30,000 farmers were on strike, asking for the same improvements in hours, wages, family benefits and social security which were won by 1,000,000 northern land workers and sharecroppers last week after a 12-day strike. The conservative Rome newspaper Moneta-Sera placed the number of Rome strikers at 80,000. Other strikes, "partial" strikes and threats of strikes continued to harass the government.

Arendtsville

Arendtsville—A special meeting of the Ever Ready class of the Zion Reformed Sunday school has been called for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Parish House.

Harry McDannell has been spending several weeks in Chambersburg where he is employed as a fruit and vegetable inspector.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neady, Baltimore, visited in town on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Deardorff have built an addition to their house.

'AG' INSTRUCTOR

The Curtis Publishing company, and last Thursday John Bird, an editor of "Country Gentlemen" came here and visited the veterans and their classes and farms." Mr. Lightner said, "Next Thursday he will return with a photographer, and articles on the Adams county program will appear in this magazine."

70 Veterans Enrolled

"We are proud of the fact that 'Country Gentlemen' is using the story of our program here as a part of its overall picture of the work with veterans throughout the United States," Mr. Lightner added.

Continuing his report on the veteran "ag" class program, Mr. Lightner said that there are now 70 veterans in the county enrolled in the four classes, which have three full-time teachers, with the fourth class handled part time by a girl three. He said there would be 80 enrollments by the end of September.

Harold E. Ecker and James G. Sneeringer, employees of the Gettysburg National bank, were designated by the county board as auditors of the financial statement. Both are themselves veterans, and offered to make the audit gratis, Mr. Lightner said.

Mr. Lightner was authorized to purchase a new filing cabinet, three ink wells and a typewriting desk for the county office out of veteran administration funds. He reported receipt of a large number of text and reference books used by the Army and Navy on agricultural, dairy and poultry subjects, which he said will be turned over to the "ag" classes. The books were furnished free by the government.

Emmitsburg

Elizabeth Sanders of Annapolis, Md., visited over the week-end with her father, George Sanders.

Harold Fury returned to Baltimore on Saturday after spending a considerable length of time at his home near St. Anthony's.

Joseph Kerrigan, of Puerto Rico, is spending several weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Kerrigan. Kerrigan is employed by the Philco Corporation, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Dorothy Freshman and daughter of Thurmont spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Sanders.

Miss Adelaide Hock and sister, Frances of Washington are spending a week visiting with their aunts, Mrs. Stella Topper and Mrs. Allen Rosensteel, DePaul street.

Mrs. Mrs. Jerome Peters, of Baltimore, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker, George Reynolds, of Baltimore, visited with his mother, Mrs. Mollie Reynolds, over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitzer and children spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold.

William Kelly of Thurmont visited on Sunday at the home of his brother and sister, Lewis and Alice Kelly, also at the home of another brother, John Kelly.

The next regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held on September 25 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Orndorff. Miss Lola David, Home Demonstration agent, will give a demonstration of "vegetables on the table." Reports of those who attended the short course at College Park will be given. All the members of the club are urged by the president, Mrs. Edwin Christmer, to be present for this meeting as the club will start its fall activities. The next afternoon of games will be held at the home of Mrs. O. H. Stinson.

Persh Mondorff, a former Emmitsburgian, has returned to Upper Marlboro where he is teaching and coaching athletics in the Upper Marlboro high school. He was a pitcher for the Mobile, Alabama, baseball team which won the championship of the Southern Association. His brother Louis "Binky" Mondorff is a member of the Army Air Forces, stationed in Manila. Mr. Mondorff makes his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Blandford and family at Upper Marlboro.

It was decided at a recent meeting of the Emmitsburg Public Library Association to hold a combination food and rummage sale on December 13 at 11 a. m. in the Fireman's Hall. Two new members have been added to the board, Mrs. O. H. Stinson and Mrs. Robert Gillespie. The library has recently been presented with several new books. Contributions for this sale will be accepted by Miss Louise Sebold.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Malloy are in Wilmington, Delaware, attending the funeral of Mr. Malloy's sister, Miss Sarah Malloy.

40-HOURS OPEN

with both the pastor, the Rev. John H. Weber and the missionary hearing.

The Forty Hours adoration of the Blessed Sacrament was introduced first in Milan, Italy, in the year 1534, in commemoration of the forty hours during which the body of Christ reposed in the sepulchre, and in preparation for the blasphemies committed against the Sacrament. In the year 1592 it was extended to the whole church, so that through the whole course of the year, the faithful would be able to give veneration to their Lord in the Blessed Sacrament. Special indulgences may be gained by the faithful who visit the church where the Blessed Sacrament is exposed, and devoutly offer their prayers of petition and adoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Snyder, North Queen street, who left last Wednesday for Chicago by plane, returned home Sunday night by plane. While in Chicago Mr. Snyder attended a Machine and Tool show. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder also visited Mr. Snyder's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. McEvelly.

Mrs. Bernard Dutterer, Littlestown R. 2, was taken to the Hanover General hospital, Sunday evening in the Hanover ambulance. Her condition at the time of her removal was serious but today her condition has improved.

Richard C. Mehrling, acting president of the Christian Endeavor society of St. Paul's Lutheran church has announced that the society is planning a hay ride to Caledonia park Saturday afternoon. They will leave the church at 4 p. m. After a wiener roast they will return Saturday evening. The society will meet Sunday evening at 6 o'clock with Richard Little, Jr., as leader. Election of officers will also be conducted.

James C. Sentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sentz, Sr., 161 Cemetery street, returned home Monday morning from a summer session at Pennsylvania State college. He will spend several days with his parents and return to State college Friday to register for the fall term which will begin September 29.

Three meetings of importance will be held tonight:

1. The Borough Council will meet in monthly session in the office of the borough secretary, Roger Keefer, at 7:30 o'clock.
2. The weekly meeting of the Rotary club will be held in the banquet

Mine Blaze Perils Mt. Carmel Homes

Harrisburg, Sept. 23 (AP)—Richard Maize, state mines secretary, today dispatched three state mine inspectors to Mt. Carmel to investigate a coal mine fire which local authorities informed the state has been burning since February and now endangering homes.

The inspectors, headed by John Brophy, were sent to the scene after Burgess Elmer Delcamp of Mt. Carmel wired a request to Governor James H. Duff to investigate the fire which, he said, has become a menace to homes in the borough.

"The state mines department doesn't have money to fight fires," Maize said, adding "I instructed the inspectors, however, to see what can be done."

The action by the Mt. Carmel borough followed a meeting with county commissioners yesterday in Sunbury at which borough officials said the blazes in abandoned bootleg coal holes have become a health menace because of a continuous smoke pall.

RICKEY HINTS MORE TITLES AS BUMS WIN

By JOE REICHLER

(By The Associated Press)
The Brooklyn Dodgers, only team ever to win a pennant at midnight, awoke this morning as official National League champions of 1947, and in the words of President Rickey they'll be champions "for many years to come."

Not many of the Brooks were aware of the good news until today. Only those few who had stayed over at Brooklyn Pitcher Hugh Casey's restaurant learned last night that the long grind finally was over and that the Dodgers had backed into the pennant.

The time was precisely 11:39 p. m. (EDT). It came about when the Chicago Cubs, who had dropped the opener of a day-night double header, 4-2 to fan the Cardinals' flickering hopes for a few more hours, defeated the Redbirds 6-3 in the second game thus eliminating them from the race.

Instead of the usual tumult and shouting that usually accompanies the winning of a flag, the players as well as the Flatbush faithful took the triumph in stride.

"In The Bag" Anyway
"After all, one Brooklyn player declared, "it was 'in the bag' the minute we grabbed the rubber game in St. Louis last week."

Rickey expressed pleasure over the work of Manager Burt Shotton, his coaches and all the players and was especially proud over the fact that he had kept a promise he had made to the Dodger fans five years ago. "When I joined Brooklyn in 1943, I promised our followers that I would give them a winner within five years. Well, next March I will celebrate my fifth year with the Dodger organization."

Shotton said that he would rest most of his regulars for the big series against the New York Yankees which gets under way next Tuesday at the Yankee stadium. He refused even to guess as to who would hurl the opener. It will be the second World Series clash between the Yankees and Dodgers, the Yankees having won the first time in 1941, four games to one. The Brooks, in fact, have yet to win a world championship in three attempts since 1900.

Detroit, Boston Tied
In St. Louis, Manager Eddie Dyer had not much to say about the Card's failure to retain their world championship. "Naturally I'll wire Shotton my congratulations," the disappointed Redbird pilot said. "I'd rather not say any more. It might seem like an alibi."

Oddly enough, it was Johnny Schmitz, the southpaw pitcher who had turned back the Cards in the last game of the 1946 season necessitating an unprecedented playoff with Brooklyn, who snuffed out St. Louis' final hopes. Schmitz relieved starter Paul Erickson in the third inning after the Cards had scored two runs to move within one run of the Cubs, and stopped the Redbirds with six-hit ball in the next six and one third innings.

Detroit fell into a second place tie with the Boston Red Sox in the American league when they were held to a split in their double header with Cleveland. Young Art Houtteman garnered his sixth victory against two defeats when he pitched the Tigers to a 6-4 victory in the opener. The Indians won the second game 7-6 on Hank Edwards' three-run homer in the ninth inning, off Virgil Trucks.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a double header in Chicago, the Sox winning the second game 4-0 after Sam Zoladak pitched the Browns to a 4-2 win in the opener. Joe Haynes hurled the shutout for the White Sox.

All other teams, except the Yankees and Washington Senators who were rained out, were not scheduled.

Fans And Notables Honor Duffy Lewis

Boston, Sept. 23 (P)—George E. (Duffy) Lewis, who probably has done more favors for others than any man now in baseball, was honored last night by some 900 fans and diamond notables.

Duffy, a member of the famed outfield of Lewis, Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper which helped bring world championships to the Boston Red Sox in 1912 and 1915, and now traveling secretary of the Boston Braves, was presented numerous gifts.

Speakers included Sox General Manager Eddie Collins, Umpire Bill Stewart, Speaker, National League Umpire in Chief Bill Klen, Hooper, National League President Ford Frick.

Damore To Retire Result Of Injury

Philadelphia, Sept. 23 (P)—Nick Damore, Philadelphia Rockets goaltender who was voted by American league sportswriters as the outstanding goalie of the 1945-46 season, has announced his retirement because of an old back injury.

Damore, who came to the Rockets from Hershey last season, spent the summer under treatment in an effort to be in condition for the 1947-48 play. Doctors said he is suffering from sciatic neuritis which developed as a result of an injury to an inter-vertebral disc in the spine.

Dick Shoemaker Still In Running

Beaumont, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—Defending champion Dick Shoemaker of Alcoma Country club was among eight players still in the running in the second round play of the Pennsylvania Golf association's tri-state championship here today.

Shoemaker didn't need to qualify for the meet but he came out, anyway, and played around the wet, wind-swept course just to get his hand in.

Then he marched into first-round play to shoot 15 holes in par and down Dave McCormick, Jr., of Shannopin, 5 and 3.

Co-medallists of the meet were Mike Pavella, Washington county; Wally Grant, Mt. Lebanon Park, and Rader Jewett, PGA president of Butler, each of whom shot 74.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 23 (P)—When Andy Kerr, long regarded as the outstanding advocate of Pop Warner's "outmoded" double wing formation, turns to the popular "T," you'd think that would be news.

... Andy doesn't think so. ... Kerr, retired by Colgate, took a job at little Lebanon Valley college and is having a wonderful time.

"I'm trying to see if it is possible to coach football without pressure," says Andy. ... "The 'T'—sure I'm using it, partly because that's what the boys learned last year. But don't forget we used it at Colgate, too. I'd say it was our main formation in 1944 and last year those same boys Paul Bixler has now been running from the 'T' ... If it is the best offensive formation instead of the one that I think is best, I want to know about it."

OBSERVING THE NICETIES

Joe Koomar, now a sophomore tackle at Western State college of Macomb, Ill., went right into the Marines from Nesquehoning, Pa., high school. ... When GI sports got going in Japan after V-J Day, Joe captained an enlisted men's football team which opposed the officers from the same Marine outfit. ... When the captains met at mid-field just before the game, the leader of the officers extended his hand and said: "Bertelli, Notre Dame."

... Not to be outdone, Joe grasped Bertelli's mitt and replied: "Koomar, Nesquehoning."

... At last report, Angelo, looking very puzzled, was wondering if that college had turned out any all-America players.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Southern football was all ready for an "incident" until Virginia Tech, which had handed Duke an informal shellacking, called off its scheduled scrimmage with North Carolina the other day. Seems several Tech coaches had visited Georgia Tech during spring practice. Some folks figured V.P.I. would be using or tipping off Georgia plays to Carolina before Saturday's big tussle. ... Twin Falls, Idaho, is challenging any Class "C" baseball town to match its attendance for this season. ... Twin Falls has a population of 15,000 and its Pioneer League club played to 99,153 cash customers. ... Admiral Jona's Ingram, all-American conference boss, claims that watching Buddy Young is like watching a hockey game—"He goes by so fast you can't tell what's going on."

CLEANING THE CUFF

Curt Simmons, Wilmington's schoolboy sensation in the Interstate league, and Utica's Dick Koecher are slated to pitch the closing doubleheader for the Phillies Sunday. ... Anne Ross, former national A.A.U. diving champion, has signed to coach the gal swimmers at Washington U. in St. Louis. ... Bert Aton, one-time Georgia Tech athlete and a pretty good tackle at West Point last fall, has returned to the Army squad as an end. ... Coincidence Dept.: The day after the National Football league opened its 1947 season, Al Paris was let out of the pokie.

Fate Of Herman Hangs In Balance

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23 (P)—Billy Herman's fate as future manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates hung in the balance here today as three of the team's co-owners gathered for a conference.

Frank E. McKinney, president of the club, has said earlier he will not hesitate to buy Billy's contract for 1948 if it appears the manager is responsible for the club's near-cellar showing.

Scheduled to meet with McKinney were John Galbreath, Columbus, O., and Thomas Johnson, Pittsburgh. The fourth owner, Bing Crosby, the radio-movie fame, said he wouldn't be there but would abide by the wishes of the others.

Irish Jockey Will Be At Rolling Rock

Ligonier, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—Martin Molony, leading Irish steeplechase rider, will fly from Ireland to appear at the 10th annual race meeting of the Rolling Rock Hunt Racing Association Oct. 1 and 4. Molony rode the winner in the Irish Grand National last year and has won 30 races this year.

BUBBLERS PLAY AT BIGLERVILLE THURSDAY NIGHT

Two former Hanover high athletes will match wits when Biglerville and Boiling Springs high school clash on the Biglerville gridiron Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Coach Gene Haas of Biglerville and Don Seibert of Boiling Springs each starred in football and basketball when students at Hanover.

Both have veteran teams to put on the field. Haas, whose Cannons looked impressive in gaining a 33-7 victory in their opener last Thursday against St. Francis Prep, can start a lineup with 10 lettermen.

Seibert has eight lettermen remaining from last season and all may earn starting roles. The regulars remaining include Don Snyder, fullback; Noel Heffelfinger, 165-pound halfback; Kenny Clepper, halfback; Sylvester Bream, end; Leon Cornman, 175-pound tackle; Eddie Wilson, 160-pound tackle; Hal Stoeck, end, and Marlin McKinney, guard.

Last week the Bubblers lost a 14-6 decision to New Bloomfield in their opener.

The Cannons have been drilling hard for the coming game and are reported in fine fettle.

Cabrelli Named Coach Of Eagles

Philadelphia, Sept. 23 (P)—Larry Cabrelli, one of professional football's finest pass-snatching ends, has been named an assistant coach of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Cabrelli, as may be supposed, is taking charge of the ends for Coach Earle (Greasy) Neale. He is a former Colgate university star.

ON PITT SCHEDULE

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23 (P)—Purdue, Indiana and Ohio State of the Western conference are on the University of Pittsburgh's 1948 football schedule, Athletic Director James Hagan announced.

Pitt also will meet Western Reserve and Notre Dame next year. Hagan said the remainder of the schedule has not been completed although it is believed the Panthers will add Penn State and West Virginia to their agenda for 1948.

Wenksville Will Meet South Penn Champs

Arrangements have been made for Wenksville, a member of the South Penn Baseball league, to meet Bonneauville, league champions, in a game at Bonneauville next Sunday afternoon.

Wenksville was knocked out of the running for the championship when it was forced to forfeit all victories for using a player who resided beyond the league's county boundary limit rule. Wenksville is the only team in the league which has a pitcher who had no official league defeats.

2 TOP HITTERS MAINTAIN PACE

New York, Sept. 23 (P)—Harry Walker of the Philadelphia Phillies and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox appear assured of winning the National and American league batting championships going into the final week of the season.

Walker, the fellow St. Louis Cards traded to Philadelphia for Ron Northey in early season, is hitting .362, enjoying a 47-point bulge over runnerup Ralph Kiner. Pittsburgh's home run king, Pitter has been out of action with a sore back but is expected to play most of the club's remaining games.

Williams' average of .342, like Walker's based on averages including Sunday's games, seems to be enough to last him through the season end September 28. The Red Sox slugger, making a late season spurt has a 14 point edge on Philadelphia's Barney McCosky in the race to succeed the defending champion, Mickey Vernon of Washington.

Bunched For Second
In both leagues the chief contention is for the runnerup spot with six in a scrap for second in the National and six in the running behind Williams in the American.

Behind Kiner's second place .315 in the National come Augie Galan of Cincinnati, .314, Phil Cavarretta of Chicago, .313, Pete Reiser of Brooklyn, .312, Bob Elliott of Boston, .311 and Tommy Holmes of Boston, .310, each separated by only one point. Walker Cooper of New York is eighth at .307 and Whitey Kurowski of St. Louis and Dixie Walker of Brooklyn, Harry's brother, are tied for ninth at .306.

McCosky, batting .328, has a strong challenger in Johnny Pesky of Boston whose 26-game hitting streak was snapped Sunday. Pesky is hitting .326. Taft Wright of Chicago, .322, Dale Mitchell of Cleveland, .321, George Kell of Detroit, .319 and Joe DiMaggio of New York, .318 have a chance to catch McCosky. Others in the top 10 in the American are Lou Boudreau of Cleveland, .310, Luke Appling of Chicago, .308 and Sam Mele of Boston, .306.

Eastern League

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 23 (P)—The champion Utica Blue Sox and the second place Albany Senators were even at two games apiece today in their final Eastern League Governor's cup playoff series.

The Senators deadlocked the series last night at Albany before 2,077 fans who came out in football weather to see the home team rally for four runs in the eighth inning and a 7-3 victory.

The teams go at it again in Utica tonight with the veteran Fred Clemence pitching for Albany against either Bill McGurk or Dick Koecher for Utica.

Juste Fontaine Defeats Williams

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23 (P)—The comeback trial looked better to lightweight Juste Fontaine after he won a decision over Johnny Williams of New York city in their 10-round bout before 1,768 cold weather customers last night in Zivic arena.

The fight was fairly even throughout, with Fontaine maintaining an early lead through a stabbing left and an effective bolo. No one was knocked down. Both fighters weighed 142.

Steelers Release Wild Bill Dutton

Bedford, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—Wild Bill Dutton, Pittsburgh Steelers right halfback who was third leading ground gainer for the team last year, has been released.

The cut reduces the Steelers squad to 34, the number permitted under National Football league rules. Dutton, originally drafted by the Washington Redskins, was acquired by the Steelers last year after his release from the armed forces.

MURDERS DROP IN 5 LEADING PENNA. CITIES

By J. FRANK TRAGLE
(AP Special Washington Service)

Washington, Sept. 23 (P)—Pennsylvania's five cities of more than 100,000 population reported declines in murder and manslaughter, burglary, larceny and auto theft cases but increases in robbery and aggravated assault charges during the first six months of the year.

The just-released semi-annual bulletin on uniform crime reports by the Federal Bureau of Investigation—based on data received from city police departments—provides this comparison of the first half of 1947 with the first half of 1946 for the Keystone state's five largest communities:

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter—81 in 1947 and 85 in 1946. Robbery—888 and 822. Aggravated assault (assault with intent to kill or seriously injured)—632 and 568. Burglary, breaking or entering—3,721 and 4,090. Larceny and theft — 2,914 and 3,050.

Auto theft—2,045 and 2,637.

Pa. Funds Released To Three Counties

Harrisburg, Sept. 23 (P)—The Auditor General's department, acting under a new 1947 law, has authorized payment of $297,424 in liquid fuel tax funds to three counties which it previously held up under restrictions imposed by an old law.

The Bureau of County Audits announced today it has released payments of $106,764 to Erie county, $179,792 to Chester county and $10,868 to Pike county after reviewing old audits which held up payments.

The money represented the shares of the three counties in prior distributions of allocations from the state's gasoline tax revenues to counties for road and bridge purposes which the auditor general withheld on the grounds county authorities had failed to follow regulations.

"Many counties spent more money in a six-month period for highways than they received in allocations, but under the old law it was held they were unable to charge off the excess against the next period," a spokesman explained. "Now the new law permits that."

Robbery was up in Erie, Philadelphia, Reading and Scranton, and down in Pittsburgh.

Aggravated assault was up in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Reading and Scranton, and down in Erie.

Burglary, etc., was down in Erie, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and up in Reading and Scranton.

Larceny and theft were down in Erie, Pittsburgh, Reading and Scranton, and up in Philadelphia.

Automobile thefts were down in all five cities.

TRUMAN WEIGHS RATIONING AND EXPORT CUTS

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Sept. 23 (P)—President Truman is weighing recommendations today for voluntary food rationing at home and smaller grain shipments abroad as the most feasible approach to soaring domestic prices and threatened unrest overseas.

Any attempt to keep grain exports at the record levels of earlier months would require a return to rigid wartime controls and only Congress could restore them, Mr. Truman's food cabinet committee told the Chief Executive yesterday.

Hence the group composed of Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Commerce Harriman and Secretary of Agriculture Anderson proposed that the government: (A) Place a ceiling of between 450,000,000 and 500,000,000 bushels on foreign shipments this crop year (B) set up a voluntary conservation program in this country and (C) Try to find some way to augment European diets with costlier but less scarce foods.

This information came from officials in a position to know but not to be quoted. The White House itself was silent except to say that Mr. Truman will have a statement on world food problems "in a few days."

Eat Less Meat
Whether that statement will cover the whole field of emergency aid to Europe and settle the issue of whether there is to be a special session of Congress remains to be seen.

If Mr. Truman follows the committee's recommendations, consumers will be asked to eat less meat and other livestock products, to conserve flour and bread, and waste less food. Farmers would be asked to market hogs at lighter weights, to put less "finish"—that is, quality—on beef cattle, and to feed less grain to dairy and poultry stock so as to save wheat for export.

Local Miscellany: A two-story frame house is being built by George Dougherty, at Sedgwick, near Round Top.

The Theological Seminary opened on Tuesday at 9 a. m., when the introductory address was delivered by Dr. E. J. Wolf, and entrance examinations were held.

The Battlefield commission have put up galvanized posts and rods for hitching horses at Devil's Den, and granite posts and chains at various places on the field.

An excursion of about 250 colored people from Baltimore visited the battlefield on Sunday.

Messrs. Livers, Ertter and Riley have bought the Charlestown, W. Va., Electric Light plant. They intend to improve the plant and operate it at once.

On Thursday evening the stable of William Pettis in Mummansburg, was destroyed by fire, with the crops. The loss is estimated at about $400.

Our citizens, who have witnessed the performances of Prof. Gentry's show, at different places, pronounce it the best they have ever seen. Do not fail to take your children to see the dogs and ponies perform.

The New Avenue Completed: The new avenue, commencing at the terminus of Hancock avenue, near the old Weikert property, and extending over Little Round Top until it joins the Confederate avenue, is about completed and will be thrown open to the public in a few days.

The new avenue will afford one of the most delightful drives on the battlefield.

Wedding Bells: Troxel-Kitzmiller — On Thursday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kitzmiller, Railroad street, was filled with guests, assembled to do honor and witness the marriage ceremony of their eldest daughter, Miss Sadie C. to Charles W. Troxel, one of our popular young men, and only son of ex-county Treasurer David Troxel, of this place.

At 8:15 o'clock the happy couple entered the parlor and were united in holy wedlock by the Rev. Dr. T. J. Barkley.

The bride was handsomely attired in a costume of rose colored silk, trimmed in satin ribbon and carried a bouquet of white and pink China asters, while the bridegroom wore the customary black.

The ushers were H. C. Houser, J. Harry Holtzworth, William D. Gilbert and Preston Tate.

Mr. and Mrs. Troxel will reside on York street.

Mottorn-Dougherty: On Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in St. James Lutheran church, Miss Jennie Dougherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Dougherty, was married to Rev. Warren Mottorn, pastor of Mt. Holly Lutheran church, and a recent graduate of the Lutheran seminary. Rev. A. R. Steck, assisted by Dr. M. Valentine, officiated. The church was tastefully decorated with golden rod, ivy and potted plants. The bride was becomingly attired in white silk and carried white China asters. Miss Lilly Sterner was bridesmaid and Misses Lilly and Elizabeth Dougherty were the maids of honor. The best man was Rev. Hugh Watt, and Messrs. G. Z. Stupp, H. D. Schriener, C. H. Brosins and S. C. Berger acted as ushers. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Sadie Stallsmith. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

Personal Mention: Mrs. Croll left on Tuesday to resume her duties as teacher of English in Mrs. Dripps school, Germantown.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Loreto Catharine, daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. Francis Cole, near Arendtsville, to Dr. George F. Tate, of Altoona. The

Today's Talk
CONTINUAL OPPOSITION

I wonder how far any one of us would get did we not have opposition? In nature everything that thrives, does so in the face of continual opposition. What a beating the trees of the forest take! They have to fight for a look at the Sun. Their leaves and branches are under constant attack. The heat and cold and storms merely serve to make them more hardy.

The precious pearl is not a natural growth, but one that results from an unnatural rubbing inside the oyster shell. And opposition thus creates a thing of rare and exquisite beauty! I believe we all like a man or woman about whom all speak well — and yet we must admire the one with a nice group of enemies, for it takes a big man, or woman, to handle them, without withering in stature, and without the loss of character.

Weak people do not have enemies. They do not need them! They couldn't handle them anyway. With plenty of enemies you get plenty of opposition — and that is what builds character, and independence of mind, and courage. It also adds fuel to incentive and sharpens the will to fight for that which is worth while.

There has been continual opposition to the democratic form of government, over long periods of history, yet this very opposition has made possible the establishment of the greatest democracy in all the world — an outgrowth of the seeds of democracy, planted in the Old World, and carried over to the New by liberty-loving human beings.

It is continual opposition that builds the strong muscles of the athlete. In the face of opposition we are always inspired to do our best. If we didn't have opposition we would merely sit around, idling, and with no expectancy. And there would be no surprises to enlighten us, no thrills, and no unexpected joy!

The New York Times for September 7th carried the story of John DeFerrari, the son of an Italian immigrant, a fruit peddler, who also started his career with a basket of fruit to sell. But the other day, at the age of 84, he happily presented to the Boston Public Library $1,000,000, to start off a $3,000,000 trust fund, in appreciation for what books had done for him, but primarily to inspire youth with the opportunity for success in America. Think of the opposition that he must have encountered, however, in that long and gratifying climb!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "What Are You Worth?"

LINES TO A FRIEND
Now you will wonder, as do I,
Why fled the years so swiftly by
And all the joys that used to be Translated into memory.

And you will learn, as I have learned,
That happy memories must be earned;
That every recollection glad
Reflects a precious blessing had.

And you will find as time goes by
That every ache and every sigh
Comes from the happy long ago,
When joy and peace were yours to know.

She would not have you grieve; and yet,
Those moments when your eyes are wet,
You'll see, as often I have seen,
How richly blest your life has been.

SUN TO CROSS EQUATOR TODAY BRINGING FALL
By MAX HALL
(For James Marlow)

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—Today at one minute before 5 p. m., Eastern Standard time, the center of the sun crosses the Equator, going south. That moment is the equinox. It marks the arrival of autumn. South of the Equator, it marks the arrival of spring.

Interestingly, what some people call "equinoctial gales" are puffing around various parts of the country. For example, a new tropical windstorm is whistling through Florida. Last week a major hurricane lashed Florida and raked the Gulf coast. The Great Lakes area and the Northeastern states have been feeling strong winds that have no relation at all with the tropical storms.

None of these disturbances is really "Equinoctial" in any direct sense.

Effect On Weather

The Weather bureau says they are not connected with the equinox as an astronomical event.

Today, when the sun's rays strike the Equator at a precisely perpendicular angle, and the North Pole begins settling down into its six months of darkness and the South Pole into its six months of constant light, the event itself won't have any effect on the winds that blow.

Even so, weather experts say there is a relationship between the southward passage of the direct sun rays at this season and the currents of our air.

This relationship is complex, but the rough idea is that land masses and water masses are cooling rather fast at this time of the year. Furthermore, the land is cooling faster than the water, and this uneven cooling helps to stir the breeze.

The hurricane was a dramatic illustration of the grief unusual weather can cause.

But enormous damage can be done by just plain rain, which caused floods and crop damage in the early summer; by searing heat, which injured the corn crop in August; and by frost, which has already stolen down into the North Central states.

But that isn't surprising for September. The Weather bureau says the North Central states and Northern New England can normally expect an average of one freezing day each September, and Rocky Mountain areas can expect two or three such days.

In past years, the bureau says, every state except Florida has had freezing weather in September.

Wyoming and Colorado have had September temperatures of 9 below zero.

In September, 1917, Colorado had a statewide average of 11.8 inches of snow.

Police Probe Theft And Kidnap Story

Erie, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—Police investigated today the case of an Erie cafe proprietor who said he was forced to accompany two armed men on a 100-mile automobile ride after they had stolen approximately $1,000 from his safe.

Police Captain Edward Englert said Frank Auditori, 40-year-old downtown cafe proprietor, gave this version of the affair.

Early Saturday while he was alone counting receipts, two masked gunmen entered. They forced him to summon his wife, then bound and gagged her, picked up the money from the safe and also smashed a pinball machine, obtaining about $20 in coins.

The men forced Auditori into his auto and drove him to a country road near Lisbon, Ohio, where they abandoned the machine, throwing the keys on the ground. They released Auditori there.

Say Dogs Prefer Mickey Mouse Movies

Los Angeles, Sept. 23 (AP)—The amazing tastes of Carleton R. Bainbridge's Irish Setters, Pat and Gunner, whom he left $30,000, continue to regale a superior court jury hearing the contest of the will brought by Sherman J. Bainbridge, brother of the late dog fancier.

Witnesses yesterday testified that Carleton told them the dogs preferred Mickey Mouse and similar cartoons at the movies, which they attended regularly with their master.

Attorneys in the case stipulated that although the dogs talk, they

REDS EXECUTE NIKOLA PETKOV

Sofia, Sept. 23 (AP)—Nikola Petkov, leader of the opposition Agrarian union, was executed at midnight last night, it was announced today, for allegedly plotting against Bulgaria's communist-controlled government.

The execution was carried out despite protests from both the United States and Britain, which had termed Petkov's conviction a miscarriage of justice.

His last chance of escaping the death penalty—imposed August 16—vanished last Thursday when the Bulgarian Supreme Court rejected his appeal.

Intervention Fruitless

Previously, the United States had sought a review of the Petkov case by the allied control commission in Bulgaria, composed of representatives of the U. S., Russia and Britain. Russia contended, however, that such action would constitute intervention in Bulgaria's internal affairs.

The United States subsequently—with British backing—appealed directly to Moscow to take a hand in reviewing the case, but without results.

Petkov had been under arrest since June 6, when he was formally charged with plotting to overthrow the government and establish a new regime with himself at its head. He firmly denied the charges at his trial, which began August 5.

Bonniwell Resigns As AAU President

Philadelphia, Sept. 23 (AP)—Judge

Harry S. McDevitt, of Common Pleas court, was elected president of the Middle Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union last night, succeeding Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, who resigned after ten terms.

Judge Bonniwell's resignation was announced at the election meeting shortly before the balloting began.

Anthony A. Roeser, of West Branch, YMCA, was elected first vice president, and Albert Rosenheck, of South Jersey Track and Field club, was chosen second vice president. Frank N. Percival was unopposed for re-election as secretary-treasurer.

DEMAND RETURN OF YANKS HELD BY SLAV FORCES

Trieste, Sept. 23 (AP)—United States Army headquarters in Trieste today demanded the return of an American officer and two enlisted men who, it said, were taken captive by Yugoslav while on mounted patrol duty on the Trieste-free territory frontier yesterday and "forced across the border at gunpoint."

An official report issued by headquarters of U. S. troops in Trieste said the missing men were patrolling near the sector where Yugoslav last week tried to force their way into the free territory.

The Army announcement identified the trio as First Lt. William Van Atten, East Orange, N. J., Pfc. Earl G. Hendrick, Jr., Arlington, Va., and Pfc. Glen A. Myers, Egoeley, N. D.

Official Account

Van Atten was caught in a Yugoslav ambush in July, 1946, on the road between Gorizia and Trieste, the Army report said. His driver was killed and he and an enlisted man were wounded.

The official Army account of yesterday's occurrence is as follows: "The report of the incident came from the other two members of the patrol. Pfc. Edison T. Lenhart, Southbury, Conn., and Pvt. George E. Perry, Fort Thomas, Ky., who dashed to the 351st regimental headquarters with the news.

"While leading his patrol along the frontier, Van Atten sighted a Yugoslav patrol with whom he and his men had talked before and appeared to be on good terms. Van Atten and two enlisted men dismounted and approached the boundary on foot.

"They were seen talking with the Yugoslavs at a distance of 30 to 35 feet from the Yugoslavs. Then they were seen to go forward while the Yugoslavs pointed rifles at them."

The Army report said the Americans were "forced across the frontier at gunpoint."

U.S. TO STUDY EUROPE DEMAND

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—A searching American scrutiny awaits western Europe's estimate that it must have some $22,440,000,000 worth of help, largely from the United States, in the next four years to get back on its feet.

State department officials said today the report of the 16-nation Paris conference which drafted the so-called Marshall plan estimate will be studied item by item before any request for actual funds is submitted to Congress. There, too, the figures are due for sharp examination.

Rep. Chenoweth (R-Colo.), a member of the potent Rules committee which must clear all legislation before it can reach the House floor, told a reporter the whole report will be gone over "with a fine tooth comb."

However, a prediction of speedy approval came from Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.), chairman of the joint House armed forces and appropriations committee now touring Europe. Dirksen said in an interview at Munich yesterday he expects a special session of Congress to okay the project.

There has been virtually no talk here of a special session to consider the long-range aid program. President Truman is, however, pondering whether to summon the lawmakers into emergency session to consider stop-gap help.

CHECK VOTING MACHINES

Mercer, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—Pittsburgh residents voted to discontinue the sale of beer and liquor at the recent primary but Judge George H. Rowley has granted a petition to inspect voting machines used in three precincts on the grounds they weren't operating properly. The petitioners, Chris Page, William Briggs and Ernest Aloie, said levers on the machines failed to register correctly in some cases and didn't operate at all in others.

FINDS MAN'S BODY

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—A widespread search has ended with discovery of the body of John Ott, 81-year-old Meadville resident who disappeared from his home August 20. The remains were found yesterday in a wooded section two miles from Ott's home by two boys who were playing. Coroner Luther J. King said the aged man apparently died from exposure.

Chapter 14

Their meeting at breakfast on Saturday morning was hard for both Bruce and Tnette. Bruce said casually:

"Guess I'm Joe College again, all right. I went out."

"Everybody has to relax," she answered. "Coffee?"

"If it's good and black." He hated himself for implying that he had been drinking too much the night before and had a hangover.

"I've a pile of work to do over the week-end."

Tnette did not reply. She was trying to recapture the spirit of the person she had been for a few hours last night, alive with resolve to make Bruce happy. And to prove to Bruce that she had not meant what she had said about never interfering with his life again, she said:

"Aren't you going to tell me what was in Homer's letter?"

He looked at her blankly.

"Letter from Homer?"

"I'll get it," Tnette said. She sped into the house and returned with the airmail special. She handed it to Bruce and would have sat down again; but he caught her hand.

"Couldn't we—can't we forget this hideous week," he begged. "Can't we strike it out of the books?"

"Oh, yes," she sighed. "Oh, yes, let's do."

So together they opened Homer's letter; and by the time they had read it the sunlight seemed to have gone behind a cloud and the warm October day was all at once chilly.

Homer's ultimatum was brief but altogether to the point:

"Dear Bruce:

The boys and I have read your letter. We have decided to short-circuit the lawyers this time and write you direct. You can come back and God knows we'll be happy; or if you prefer, you can send us your check for $15,000.

Homer."

It was some time before either of them made any comment; and when Bruce spoke he echoed the thought hovering in Tnette's mind.

"It isn't like him to write this kind of a letter."

Homer, on his own, would not have written it. But the members of the band had cornered him in the dining room of the Palmer House the morning after the none too successful opening. String Jackson had not put in an appearance and so they could say what they pleased. Gail was their caustic mouthpiece.

"Better enjoy those eggs floating around in that fancy sauce. You'll be lucky to have a bare egg to eat if Bruce doesn't highlight it back."

It was an opening for Homer; and he extracted Bruce's letter from his pocket and read it to the gang.

"Ducky, ain't it," Phil Doherty said mincingly when Homer had finished. He turned to Gail. "How about our quitting the band and taking up Art."

Homer was in no mood for leniency. He had detected the bad signs last night, had felt uneasily the foundations of his outfit slipping.

"We'll see," he said abruptly.

"For how much?" Gail snapped.

"Oh, well, say—how about twenty-five grand?"

"Make it an impossible hundred thousand," Gail said with heat.

"He'll have to come back then."

Austin Hammond snarled surlily: "Whatever you make it, make it enough to put him in hock for life—and then throw him out of the band."

That checked all of them; for Austin had certainly done his bit of damage last night.

"You're a black dog," Jacques Delonals said blandly.

"Why slander dogs?" Gail said. There was murder in her eyes as she glared at Austin.

"There's none of us," Joe Taggart said with unexpected softness, "except Glamorous Puss Hammond here, who hate Bruce. Agreed?"

Nobody said anything. But they grudgingly nodded their heads in the affirmative.

"The general idea," Joe continued, "is to name a sum of money Bruce simply hasn't got. That right?"

"Right."

"O. K. Off-hand, I'd say he's not got twenty-five grand, or even five. Anybody ever know a band player who did have more than a month's rent?"

They got down to cases then, and finally decided that fifteen thousand was a proper threat. Then somebody remembered the incredible fact that Bruce had his house paid for.

"How about that? He could sell it."

Gail sneered, but her heart ached as she spoke what she knew to be the truth:

"You're all crazy if you think he'd ever part with that dump."

"You sure of that, Gail?"

"Well, what do you think?" Gail said with such confidence that they all began to believe that Bruce would soon be back. But they nailed Homer down, made him write the letter and went with him to post it.

Gail's heart hummed a gay melody as she went to her room.

"Tnette's all softness and gooey-ness," she told herself gleefully. "But just let Bruce try to pry that house loose from her clutches."

Chapter 15

The idea of selling the house did not even occur to Bruce as, two days later, he sat with Tnette close beside him trying to figure an answer. But even as he beat his brain he knew there was no answer at least in money. The answer was that he would return to the band; for Homer might as well have demanded a million dollars as fifteen thousand.

Haggardly he looked at Tnette, and he managed to grin.

Well, Homer, I guess this sends Doctor Crane back to the piano factory."

But Tnette shook her head.

"Not if you don't want to go back."

Bruce lit a cigarette. "This isn't a question anymore of what I want."

"You do want to go on with school, don't you—even if I did miff things in the beginning?"

He started to say, "Of course." He remembered then his doubts, his failure in what should have been a simple examination for him. He thought of the complicated months that very ahead of him, and of his strange inability to get back in the old groove. Tnette had every right to know the truth.

He answered her humbly:

"I honestly don't know, Tnette."

"Oh!" Tnette couldn't keep the woe from her voice. She hadn't expected that answer. And, in a way, it made superfluous the suggestion, she had meant to offer. "Well, in that case—" she began, but she had to stop to gulp back disappointed tears. "Now about this letter—"

"Well, what about it?" he challenged, and drew her down into his chair.

But she could not be off-hand about what she had to say. And so she hid her face against his chest so he could not see her eyes as she gave him the solution.

"The answer is fairly simple, Bruce," she tried to quiet her trembling body. "We'll sell the house. It's a beautiful house, and lots of people would pay quite a bit of money for it."

"Ah, no, we won't," he said. "That was part of the bargain—that I'd never take anything away from you."

"It isn't taking anything away. It's what you might call—well, replacing one thing for a better. Besides, it's only for a short while."

Her eyes rested on the green roof that had sheltered them. "Years go so fast, don't they, Bruce?"

"Yes," he said with sudden passion, and his arms tightened about her. "That's why I want to crowd them full of good things for you."

"Then crowd them full of the very best thing," she pleaded. "Make them come and go like a—singling symphony, darling, with you doing what you were meant to do."

"I could never sell the place, dearest," he whispered tenderly. "You belong here—forever."

Piercing her head shot up. "Quiet," he commanded, before she had a chance to speak. "I haven't finished. Maybe we could—"

Embarrassment silenced him. "Tell me."

"We might be able to—well, sort of get a mortgage."

"Darling!" Her arms flew about him. "That will be better. Ever so much better. Then we won't lose it—"

"Lose what?"

Bruce and Tnette whirled. Nola had come out into the patio.

"So you've come home," Nola had said somberly to Bruce. "And Tnette looked gorgeous last night—all dressed up for her party."

"Please, Nola—" Tnette began.

Nola flung down the Hollywood Reporter.

"Here," she said, "there's some interesting gossip about a new redhead in Hollywood—or rather, the Tropics."

Her words were meaningless to Tnette; but Bruce felt the palms of his hands moistening.

"Getting psychopathic," Bruce muttered as Nola walked away.

"I'm afraid so," Tnette said. Then she bit her lips. She had resolved not to bother Bruce with household troubles.

But Bruce caught the momentary fright in her eyes; and he made her tell him what was wrong.

"It's nothing, I'm sure," she concluded after she had told him about Nola's visit to Julie's room. "She wouldn't harm a hair of Julie's head, I know. But—" It wasn't easy for Tnette to ask him the question bothering her: "Do you think we should ask her to leave?"

"I don't believe she's dangerous," he commented.

When Tnette and Bruce returned late that afternoon from the bank Tnette had a queer sensation of being in a house that was not hers—at least not quite hers, not anymore.

For the loan on the house had been made with terrifying ease; and the money, exactly $15,000, would be in their hands

STATE REPORTS TEACHER CRISIS IS PAST PEAK
Harrisburg, Sept. 23 (P)—Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, said today Pennsylvania "has passed the crisis in the teacher shortage" and from now on there will be an increasing reduction of instructors holding emergency certificates.
Noting that school superintendents have reported only 2,641 vacancies against 5,000 teachers who held emergency certificates in the 1946-47 school year, Dr. Haas said the same sources report 1,182 qualified teachers, not now employed, are available to fill the vacancies.
"The total number of qualified applicants plus the teachers who have been employed on emergency certificates is adequate to fill all the vacancies except in some special subject fields," Dr. Haas said in a statement.
Need Grade Teachers
He added that reports submitted to the office of Dr. Henry Klonower, director of teacher education and certification, show "there still exists a real shortage in the field of rural elementary education" and that "this situation is particularly acute in the ungraded elementary (one-room) schools."
On the other hand, reports from college presidents show there were 3,387 graduates in teacher education from all colleges and universities, but only 476 were trained in elementary education.
"The requirement in the number of teachers employed is about equal in the elementary and secondary grades, but the proportion of new graduates going into teaching shows a ratio of about five to one in favor of the secondary field," Dr. Haas stated.
May Have Surplus
This, he continued, raises "the distinct possibility of a permanent surplus of secondary teachers in certain subjects as English, social studies, and so forth, developing in the face of this shortage of elementary teachers."
Broken down by districts, the teacher situation is 383 vacancies in first class districts with 226 qualified teachers available; 137 vacancies in third class districts, 299 available; and 1,602 openings in fourth class or rural districts, 401 teachers available.
INVOKES NEW ACT
Waynesburg, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—Greene County Judge J. I. Hook, acting under Pennsylvania's new community property law, ordered Gilbert W. Kelley, a miner at Crucible found guilty of deserting his wife, to pay her one-half of his earnings for support of herself and her child, rather than a court-fixed amount as in the past.
Glass has been made to resist bullets, to filter the sun's rays, to conduct electricity and now to resist fogging in cold weather.

25 Mothers Picket School Buildings
Leechburg, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—One hundred and sixty-five pupils received a "holiday" at the Georgetown grade school in nearby Gilpin township—thanks to the picketing ability of their mothers.
About 25 mothers yesterday set up picket lines around the three-building school in what they termed a protest against the combining of the third and fourth grades after eighth grade pupils—who had been sent to a more modern school—were returned to Georgetown.
Principal Andrew Burlando said the eighth grade change was made to save transportation costs and asked the pupils as well as their teachers—who refused to cross the picket lines—to return to classes today.
TO CUT DOWN "BIG MO"
New York, Sept. 23 (P)—The battleship Missouri is going to lose part of her superstructure so that she can get under Brooklyn bridge. Having returned President Truman from Rio De Janeiro, the "Big Mo" will lie at anchor for the next three days in Gravesend bay here. Then she goes to Bayonne, N. J., for the alteration job that will permit her to enter the New York Naval shipyard, where she will remain until January.
2,000 MINERS IDLE
Waynesburg, Sept. 23 (P)—Approximately 2,000 workers were idle in three Greene county coal mines today. Discharge of four workers closed the Mathers Collieries company mine. A dispute over lost time of motormen shut down the Poland mine of Hillman Coal & Coke company. At the H. C. Frick Coke company's Robena, largest mechanized mine in the world, an argument over work assignments caused a shutdown.
WOMAN ELECTROCUTED
Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 23 (P)—A 220-volt current which shot through her body as she stood barefoot on a damp cellar floor and turned on a light caused the death of Mrs. Susan Valent, 57, last night at her home at mine 37 of the Berwind-White Coal company, near here.
Whole wheat flour grain mixed with enough water to make a paste makes an ideal mask for face and throat. Leave it on for about 20 minutes.

Is Your Will Up-to-Date?
In a changing world, Wills, too, must be changed from time to time.
Relatives die; property is sold; young folks marry; new heirs are born; security values change; new laws are written on the statute books. Your Will may become an antiquated document with no power to deal equitably with new conditions.
There is no better time than right now to take an inventory of your estate. You owe it to your heirs to review your Will and have it brought up-to-date. We shall be glad to discuss these Trust matters with you at your convenience.
